

Fujifilm Cares About The Environment

Fujifilm and its subsidiaries have tirelessly and steadily continued its efforts and activities in the realm of environmental preservation. Fujifilm is dedicated to "preserving a green Earth and its environment, preserving health, and preserving safety." As part of this effort, FUJIFILM Medical Systems U.S.A., Inc. is providing the following information on Fujifilm Computed Radiography (FCR) Imaging Plate disposal.

Fujifilm Imaging Plate Disposal

Many products used on a regular basis at healthcare facilities such as oil, fluorescent light bulbs, sharps, disposable surgical supplies, and test specimens must be disposed of in a specialized manner. Your FCR Imaging Plates (IPs) contain a small amount of barium which must be discarded in accordance with the laws of your state and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The disposal of used IPs must be handled by a licensed transport and disposal company and must not be disposed of by anyone else.

Fujifilm Will Help

Fujifilm has provided this simplified brochure to guide you in the proper disposal of your IPs, which should make compliance easier! Questions? Please call your local Fujifilm CR Specialist or call (800) 431-1850.

Attached you will find:

1. Sample EPA ID# Application.
2. Sample Manifest.
3. List of State Environmental Agencies.

Your Responsibilities

Your facility may already have an EPA identification number. If you do not, you may need to apply for an EPA ID number from your state by filling out a form similar to the one attached. Your state environmental protection agency has this form, if you need one (see the attached list of state offices).

The used IPs must be removed by an authorized transporter and disposal organization. Please remember that you are ultimately responsible for how the used IPs are disposed.

Step By Step Instructions:

1. Apply for an EPA identification #, if necessary.
2. Have the used IPs removed by an authorized organization (your state environmental protection agency can help you locate an authorized and reputable disposal organization).
3. Prior to removal of the used IPs, ensure that the transporter has a manifest which is accurate and similar to the one attached to this brochure.
4. Ensure that a copy of the manifest is forwarded to you within 35 days of the day the used IPs were accepted by the transporter.
5. Assure that you or your transporter provides copies of the manifest to both the origin and recipient states.
6. The paperwork must be maintained by your organization for a minimum of three years.
